2022 A year of 150th Celebrations!

Than you to everyone who has helped to make Hulmeville Borough's 150th year of incorporation one to remember! There was a plethora of events that many residents, family and friends had attended. If you missed them, you can view pictures, power points and movies on Face Book, The 150th web site www.hulmeville150.gov, and on Instagram.

A few events were such a success that they will now be a yearly event! Keep an eye out in October for the 5k and Pop-up Beer garden & Ghost Tours.

Hulmeville Borough Police Department

Meet your officers

Chief John Baran has lived in Bucks County his entire life and has been a Hulmeville resident since 2008. John loves the “small town” community in Hulmeville and that is one of the main reasons he moved to Hulmeville 14 years ago. Chief Baran is in his 21st year in law enforcement, 10 of which have been with the Hulmeville Borough Police Department. John has been the Chief of Police for Hulmeville Borough since 2018 and is also a Deputy Sheriff with the Bucks County Sheriff's Office in Doylestown. John attended Penn State University and has a Bachelor's Degree in Criminal Justice. In his off time, Chief Baran plays hockey, coaches hockey for the Bensalem Police Athletic League and enjoys doing home improvement projects.

Officer Sean Dimeo began his law enforcement career in 1988 and started working for Hulmeville Borough in 2015. Sean is also a Police Officer in Langhorne Manor and a Deputy Sheriff with the Bucks County Sheriff's Office in Doylestown. During his 34 years of law enforcement, Officer Dimeo has received numerous awards and commendations. In his off time, Sean enjoys hunting and fishing.

Officer Rodgers has 8 commendations during his service including Bravery, Life Saving, Merit and a commendatory letter. Officer Ryan Gaffney is a Bucks County resident but was born and raised in Philadelphia. He is a veteran of Operation Iraqi Freedom, as he was deployed to the Middle East in 2005. Sean has been a police officer since 2008, but is Hulmeville's newest hire in the Fall of 2022. He also currently works for nearby Pennel Borough Police since 2020. He holds a Bachelor's Degree in Criminal Justice from American Military University where he graduated Summa Cum Laude. His favorite hobbies are keeping up with his 4 daughters and watching his favorite sports teams – the Phillies and the Flyers. Officer Gaffney would like to remind the public that riding ATVs and unregistered dirt bikes on streets and highways is illegal and can be highly dangerous. His favorite quote is: "Always tell the truth and take responsibility for your actions."
